INTRODUCTION

Little was it realized when the promotional slogan "A Fair to Remember" was adopted for the 1974 Minnesota State Fair that it would turn out to be prophetic. A new record attendance was established in 1974 and this in large measure was due to a fortunate combination of circumstances. Excellent weather plus a varied and comprehensive program of education and entertainment had much to do with our success.

Other ingredients, particularly the involvement of people, certainly played a major role in the '74 Fair. Not unnoticed were the dedicated efforts of volunteer workers, department superintendents and their personnel and the Board of Managers headed by Leo Keskinen, plus the loyal and hard-working permanent staff. In addition, splendid cooperation and assistance was received from the press, radio and television media.

The financial summary reveals that the 1974 Minnesota State Fair generated record high receipts. Unfortunately, it also shows that the Fair's production required record expenditures. The expense of maintaining the Fair's comprehensive physical plant is constantly going up. Moreover, the cost of labor and materials has greatly increased in recent years. In view of these circumstances, we are faced with the serious responsibility of devising means to increase revenue. These means must, and will be reasonable, in proportion to the Fair's public responsibility.

I would like to take this opportunity to publicly acknowledge and thank all of the people who played a part in making the 1974 Fair an all-time record breaker. It takes many people working together to stage and operate the Minnesota State Fair, and to each and everyone involved, go my sincere and genuine thanks. Following such a record breaking year presents a tremendous challenge to all of us, but records are made to be broken and with your continued support, good weather and God's help, it is a challenge to which we eagerly look forward.

> Respectfully JOHN E. LIBBY Secretary-General Manager

STATE OF MINNESOTA

BOARD OF MANAGERS

The Minnesota State Agricultural Society is charged by statute with the conduct of an annual state fair and with the control and management of the Fairgrounds. The Agricultural Society, categorized as a semi-state agency, was established as a public corporation in 1860. It is organized on the basis of nine regions which are identical to the nine Minnesota congressional districts as established in 1933. Membership includes representatives from county and district fair organizations and various statewide agricultural societies and associations.

The Society's Board of Managers is comprised of an elected representative from each region plus the Society president. Board members representing the fourth and fifth districts (roughly St. Paul and Minneapolis) serve as vicepresidents while the balance of the members have the title of manager.

In 1974, the board of the State Agricultural Society consisted of: Leo Keskinen, Grand Rapids educator, president; Ty W. Sincock, Owatonna businessman, manager representing the first district; Arthur Sprengeler, Plato farmer, manager representing the second district; Lawrence F. Haeg, Minneapolis businessman residing in Robbinsdale, manager representing the third district; Norris K. Carnes, retired St. Paul businessman, vice-president representing the fourth district; Leonard F. Ramberg, retired Minneapolis businessman, vice-president representing the fifth district; Logan O. Scow, Long Prairie jurist, manager representing the sixth district; J. G. "Gib" Tiffany, Redwood Falls farmer, manager representing the eighth district; Harveydale Maruska, Warren businessman, manager representing the ninth district.

1974 MINNESOTA STATE FAIR HIGHLIGHTS

The many diverse and sometimes unpredictable elements which go into staging the Minnesota State Fair fell into place in nearly perfect order in 1974 and the result was the most successful exposition in the 113-year history of the event.

Outside gate admissions during the 11-day Fair, Friday, August 23 through Labor Day, September 2, and on Preparation Day, August 22, totalled 1,596,-214. The figure, an all-time high for the Fair, included 1,014,139 adults, 388,577 children (15 years of age and under), and 193,498 vehicles.

Individually or as families, in couples and groups, more people than ever before enjoyed the State Fair. In addition to tallying records for total adult attendance and total vehicles parked, single day admission marks were set for the first Friday (95,129), first Saturday (176,356), Thursday (125,249), second Friday (129,996), and second Saturday (211,690).

Many factors contributed to the attendance surge — not the least of which was excellent weather. Daily temperatures were generally in the 60's and 70's and the average reading at 4 p.m. was 12 degrees cooler than in 1973.

It has been said that the four cornerstones of a fair are entertainment, competition, commerce and education. The 1974 Minnesota State Fair rested firmly on this foundation as, complimented by the beautiful weather, a comprehensive schedule of events awaited visitors to the Fairgrounds.

In a broad sense, entertainment was an important element of most aspects of Fair-time activity, but specific entertainment features included night Grandstand shows, horse shows, rodeos, auto races, circuses, Bandshell concerts, talent contests, wild animal shows, marionette performances, parades, Mexican Village, Royal American Shows and Youth Expo '74.

State Fair competition was keen in 20 different departments encompassing exhibits showcasing the products of some of the country's most skilled farmers, students, homemakers, artists and craftspersons.

Upper Midwest commerce and industry was on display as well. There were 1,145 exhibits or concessions on the Fairgrounds in 1974, and commercial exhibits included the booths and buildings of 150 farm implement and garden supply dealers on 80-acre Machinery Hill.

Admission rate was $1.50 for adults and vehicle parking in 1974, and the regular charge was 50c for persons five through 15 years of age. Children under five years were admitted free every day as was anyone under 16 on the two Children Days (August 23 and 30), and persons 65 years and over on Senior Citizens Day (August 29). There was a 50c charge for everyone on Preparation Day.

Gates opened daily at 6 a.m.; exhibit buildings and barns were open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., except on Labor Day when they closed at 8 p.m.

There was also a host of activity at the exposition center during the offseason. More than 300,000 persons utilized State Agricultural Society grounds and buildings during the 50-week non-Fair period.

NIGHT GRANDSTAND

As early as May, and continuing through August, a frequent remark heard around the Twin Cities and across the state was "Have you seen the talent lineup for this year's State Fair?"

Perhaps the most impressive array of variety stars ever assembled for a fair's entertainment schedule, the 1974 night show roster demonstrated its strength by setting a new advance ticket sale record and by drawing a cumulative total of 122,330 patrons to the Grandstand for 16 performances. Minnesotans, who have come to expect a standard of excellence at the State Fair, were not disappointed with the quality and diversity of talent, including country, contemporary and traditional musical artists, and comedy and dance stars of television, Broadway and film.

A different show was staged each night over a 10-day period with several shows repeated the same evening. Included were Liza Minnelli, August 23; Redd Foxx with Slappy White, Demond Wilson and the Little Steps, August 24; Charlie Rich with Jim Stafford, August 25; demolition derby, August 26; Jerry Reed, Tanya Tucker, Judy Lynn, Hank Snow and Jerry Clower, August 27; Bob Hope with Danny Davis and the Nashville Brass, and Dian Hart, August 28; Jim Nabors with The Hagers, August 29; Mac Davis and The 5th Dimension, August 30; Roy Clark with Diana Trask and The Spurrlows, August 31; Helen Reddy and Jose Feliciano, September 1.

RACE TRACK

United States Auto Club (USAC) and National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR) competition attracted 37,484 fans during four days of track action at the 1974 State Fair — a healthy average of 9,371 per race date.

Chauffeurs from USAC's "thunder and lightning" division, driving their open-wheel sprint cars, were given the green flag on Saturday and Sunday, August 24 and 25. Rollie Beale, Toledo, Ohio, and Duane "Pancho" Carter, Huntington Beach, California, triumphed in the two 40-lap features Saturday while Tom Bigelow, Whitewater, Wisconsin, swept both 75-lap races the next day.

On Sunday, September 1, and Labor Day, September 2, the thrills were served up by the drivers of NASCAR late-model sportsman stock cars. Rich Somers of Stevens Point, Wisconsin, and Tom Maier of Midland, Michigan, raced to victories in the twin 75-lap features Sunday afternoon. Butch Lindley, Greenville, South Carolina, out-dueled defending champion Dick Trickle in a 400-lap grind, Monday. Trickle, from Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin, had won the Labor Day race at the Fair each of the prior two years, but finished second in 1974.

Demolition derbies exploded on the Fair's track Monday evening, August 26 and Saturday afternoon, August 31. Monday's winner was Jeff Vitale, St. Paul, and Jim Hegge, Minneapolis, won on Saturday. Total demo derby attendance was 11,636.

HORSE SHOWS

Minnesota, with an extremely large horse population, is a state whose citizens have an obvious high regard for the equestrian art. Horse shows at the 1974 State Fair reflected this interest. A total of 740 exhibitors entered 1,697 horses from 18 states and Canada, in English and western-style performance classes and halter competition. Premiums totalling $47,398 were awarded in addition to trophies and ribbons.

More than 125 performance classes were judged during the English shows which started Thursday afternoon, August 22, and continued through Wednesday evening, August 28. Included were five-gaited, three-gaited, fine harness and American Saddlebred horses; parade horses; walking horses; hunters; jumpers; roadster and farmer's hitch competition; and harness, hackney, roadster and Shetland ponies.

Western horse shows, starting August 30 and running through Labor Day, September 2, featured some 30 individual performance classes as well as saddle club drill teams, square dances on horseback, barrel races for men and women, tandem bareback riders, pole weaving for men and women, rescue races and trailer races.

American Saddlebreds, Belgians, Percherons, Appaloosas, Arabians, Morgans, Palominos, and Quarter Horses were shown to halter as were hackney and Shetland ponies.

Three complete championship rodeos, produced by Bob Barnes, Peterson, Iowa, were presented Thursday and Friday, August 29 and 30. Total attendance at paid horse shows and rodeos was 49,043.

SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT EVENTS ABOUNDED

In addition to the entertainment provided by night Grandstand and Hippodrome shows, auto races, commercial exhibits, and competitive judging and displays, 1974 Fairgoers found sources of diversion in many other events on the grounds.

The free Bandshell program in Administration Park was particularly attractive as Billy ThunderKloud and the Chieftones, Jack D'Johns, Don Cavitt's Sounds of the 30's and 40's and Kithara played return engagements and the Conti Family, Main Street Singers and Larry and Lorrie Collins with the Oklahoma River Bottom Band made first-time State Fair appearances.

Evenings at the Bandshell, 100 Amateur Talent Contest semi-finalists, chosen from nearly 300 entrants, competed for the opportunity to perform in Labor Day finals. Mom's Apple Pie Inc., a St. Cloud comedy troupe, was the winner and, as part of their grand prize, will return to the Bandshell for a six-day paid engagement in 1975.

In the Natural Resources Building, there were movies, a walk-through facsimile of Minnesota's various topographical features, and a "touch and see" room, with furs, animal skulls and rocks. Outside the building, wildlife ponds were stocked with fish and fowl and, in another area of Natural Resources Park, the Mitchell Marionette Show was presented to enthusiastic audiences three times each day.

Across one street from the park, Future Farmers of America operated their popular Barnyard, while across another, Holter's Wild Animal Show was the attraction four times daily.

In the Hippodrome exhibit area, the Ted Johnson Trio performed, and in the Creative Activities Building, Jan Biley and his symphonic ensemble were featured. In the Education Bulding's Baldwin Hall, an all-day program was presented which included the Rex Accordion Band, high school bands, choruses, International Institute folk dancers, Aloha Studios Polynesian dancers, tumblers, gymnasts, Jhoon Rhee Karate demonstrations, square dancers, Reedy Family singers, and David Dance Studio dancers.

The Fair also included a youth-oriented rock entertainment area called Youth Expo '74, and the complete three-ring Tommy Hanneford Circus, which was presented weekday afternoons in front of the Grandstand. Also in the Grandstand, the traditional free Children Days shows were offered and starred Texas humorist Randy Brown.

Other celebrity entertainers at the exposition were the Fair's own Goodwill Ambassador, Candy Candido; State Fair Statesman, Randy Merriman, and official gopher mascot, "Fairchild."

Ethnic entertainment was part of the busy Territorial Pioneers Log Cabin schedule, while next door, at the Senior Citizens Building, folk singers were featured.

Participating in mall parades and special concerts were the Alberta All-Girls Drum and Bugle Band, Alberta, Saskatchewan; Mnnesota State Employees Band, St. Paul; Chatfield Brass Band, Inc., Chatfield; Beresford High School Band, Beresford, So. Dakota; Wahpeton High School Band, Wahpeton, No. Dakota; St. Paul Police Band Mounties Drum and Bugle Corps, St. Paul; New Richmond High School Band, New Richmond, Wisconsin; St. Cloud Technical High School Band, St. Cloud; Minnesota Over-60 Band, Gaylord; and Osage High School Band, Osage, Iowa.

COMPETITION REMAINED BASIC FAIR INGREDIENT

Open, public competition, a most fundamental Minnesota State Fair tradition, was one of the essential elements of the 1974 edition. The Fair awarded cash prizes totalling $303,776 to 11,669 exhibitors who entered 30,196 animals, articles, acts or demonstrations.

As with its other programs, State Fair competition fulfilled more than one basic function. In addition to being a place where artists, farmers, homemakers, students and handicrafters were given an opportunity to test their skills, the Fair's competitive arenas and exhibit halls were a significant portion of the aggregate entertainment and education offered by the exposition. When brought together, competitive exhibits in any one of a wide variety of areas became unusual displays of individual endeavor as well as being a source of recognition for their owners or creators.

Two factors contributed to making the Fair's competitive sector particularly important in 1974. First, there are fewer farms in this country today, and many urban and suburban-dwelling adults as well as children found the Fair's displays to be their only chance to become acquainted with the animals and crops of the rural Upepr Midwest. Second, an increased public awareness of such "old-fashioned" virtues as self-reliance and conservation gave additional impact to State Fair exhibits of preserved foods, garden products, hand crafts, meat cuts and natural foods.

EXHIBITS AND CONCESSIONS

Well over one million persons were the receptive clientele* for 1,145 different commercial entities operating on the Fairgrounds during the 1974 State Fair.

Space rental fees represented a significant percentage of the Fair's income in 1974 as exhibitors and concessionaires paid a total of $983,105 to do business on the grounds. This space rental figure was the highest in the Fair's history and the second largest source of Society revenue for the year.

Because exposition attendance has been excellent for many years (more than one million admissions yearly since 1955), selling or exhibiting products at the Fair has become a very desirable and competitive business practice. The annual exposition resembles a huge marketplace with concessions and exhibits contributing to a great diversity of entertainment and education. Concessionaires supplied Fairgoers with food, drink, souvenirs, rides and products, often at bargain prices, while the many commercial exhibitors gave them "food for thought" regarding future purchases of goods and services. At the same time, the demand for space generated income of vital importance in making the Fair an economical family outing.

Examination of the Space Rental Department's classification system will illustrate the variety of enterprise found at the 1974 Fair. Classes of concessions included: dining halls; lunch and refreshment stands; confections and tobacco; popcorn; sno-cones; pronto pups; candy floss; imports; clothing; kitchen aids; books; weight guessers; shooting galleries; jewelry; photo galleries; auto accessories; arcades; official programs; Grandstand and Hippodrome concessions; merchandise permits (off-grounds suppliers); sign and card painting; carnival and independent rides (midway, space tower); and carnival and independent shows.

Exhibits were classified based on location. Outdoor exhibit space included 80-acre Machinery Hill, and commercial exhibits were also found in the Hippodrome concourse, Natural Resources complex, Dairy and Animal Products Building, Merchandise Mart, Agriculture-Horticulture Building, Modern Living Building, Food Building, Creative Activities Annex, Education Building, Grandstand, Machinery Hall and State Exhibits Building.

Metropolitan-area media at the Fair, acting in the dual role of exhibitors, and reporters or broadcasters, included the Minneapolis Star and Tribune; St. Paul Dispatch and Pioneer Press; Farmer Magazine; KMSP, KSTP, WCCO and WTCN television; KDWB, KSTP, WCCO, WWTC and WYOO radio; and the State College Radio Network.

RECOGNITION PROGRAMS

The 1974 exposition recognized various groups and individuals with special day designations. Parades and special programs were usually part of the festivities.

Senior Citizens Day saw the culmination of a selection process sponsored by the Governor's Citizens Council on Aging, the Minnesota Federation of County Fairs and the State Fair, when Mrs. Lois Vollmer, Le Center, and Charles Gordon, Villard, were honored as the state's outstanding senior citizens.

^{*}If vehicle admissions of 193,498, plus a liberal estimate of 100,000 for persons attending the Fair only because they were employees, concessionaires, exhibitors, etc., are subtracted from total admissions, the 1974 net is 1,302,716.

The annual Teacher of the Year awards luncheon took place on the Fair's first Sunday, and Robert G. Heyer, a Mounds View district physical science teacher, was chosen as representative of Minnesota's many fine educators. The Fair cosponsored the program with the Minnesota Education Association.

The Agricultural Society also honors its friends and supporters in two ways not directly connected with the annual State Fair. Honorary members, so named because of their eminent service to the Society, are Robert Lund, Henry Swenson, Ted Arens, Harry Frost, Kindy Wright, Fred Lammers, James Libby, Deke Grussendorf, Edwin Gruber, Stanley Muckle, Birney Wilkins and Roy Sorenson.

The State Fair Hall of Fame was established in 1965 to honor persons who have made significant contributions to the well-being of the State Fair and to Minnesota agriculture and agri-business. Plaques picturing these individuals and summarizing their achievements are on display in the Senior Citizens Building on the Fairgrounds.

OFF-SEASON SPECIAL EVENTS

Community utilization of Minnesota State Fair facilities, during periods other than the annual exposition, continued its upward trend during 1974.

A composite of Fair-period and off-season attendance shows that 1.7 million Minnesotans made use of the Fairgrounds during the year (ending November 30). No other state or metropolitan facility can boast of such concentrated usage. This is of particular note when one takes into account that Fair buildings are not heated and can be used for shows and special events only between April 1 and October 31.

Off-season attendance of 302,625 during 1974, compared with 236,195 in 1973; 243,977 in 1972; 239,975 in 1971 and 166,900 in 1970. (The 1973 Billy Graham Crusade has been excluded from this comparison as it was an unusual and non-recurring event.) The five-year growth factor is 80%.

The Society's effort towards encouraging greater community use of its facilities is predicated upon three important criteria: (1) the Board of Manager's awareness that Minesota citizens have the right to see that this public resource is used fully and properly; (2) special events of this type, for the most part, serve the Fair's statutory mandate in areas of education, youth development, stock-breeding, industry and the arts (3) income derived by the Society from these events provides an important hedge against Fair-period weather problems and economic shortfall.

Off-season income, including winter warehousing, has become an integral part of the exposition's operational budget. In 1974, these activities produced gross revenue of $163,088, which represents 4.3 per cent of the Society's total operating income.

STATE FAIR PERSPECTIVE

The need to find room for 200,000 vehicles during the Fair period, and the necessity of parking them in orderly rows without a space being wasted, were not among the difficulties encountered in the Fair's early years; neither were long-range off-season utilization plans, weekends on which close to onequarter million persons wished to attend the Fair, nor community impact problems. In order for the Fair to remain a viable forum for education, competition, commerce and entertainment in a fast-moving social environment, the State Agricultural Society has been required to grapple with these and similar puzzles while at the same time remaining particularly sensitive and responsive to public needs.

With this feeling for the public as a guide, and with a keen eye to its statutory obligation to conduct a representative annual Fair, the Society has ample latitude to face the demands of the last quarter of the twentieth century as well as the challenge of "century three."

Basic planning designed to deal with the complex questions now being faced by the Society includes the decision to extend the Fair's term from 11 to 12 days. Feeling that another day will alleviate some of the pressure caused by heavy weekend attendance, the Fair Board of Managers, on the final day of the 1974 exposition, set Thursday, August 21 through Labor Day, September 1, as the official dates for the 1975 Minnesota State Fair.

To provide input for coming to grips with the increasingly important issue of Fairgrounds' utilization, the board and management have commissioned an independent study team to assess the economic and social benefits of the Fair, and explore the potential for expanded utilization of the Fairgrounds. The completed study, to be ready early in 1975, will serve as the basis for a master plan of State Fair development.

The charts on the following pages have been included in this report to exhibit some of the trends which bear on planning decisions.

The chart showing operating income and operating expenses indicates that, while both have risen drastically, the amount by which income exceeded expense in 1974 was at the lowest level since 1969. Permanent plant improvements, which totalled $342,532 in 1974, are not included in the expense figures on this chart nor in the operating statement. The ticket sales chart shows a generally rising level of income from this source, but also illustrates that poor weather, such as was experienced in 1973, cuts into this vital revenue.

The next graph, showing competitive premiums paid, indicates a reduction in 1974 as compared to 1973. This is the result of lower auto race purses due to fewer racing programs. The six-year total for premiums in all departments is $1,702,753.

A significant aspect of the Fair-time attendance graph is that, while overall admissions have risen almost steadily, the "people only" line nearly parallels the total of adults, children and vehicles. This indicates that number of vehicles parked has remained reasonably constant over the past six years and the real increase is due to more people attending the Fair.

Night show attendance was higher than ever before in 1974, as was offseason utilization. Each figure caps a general-rising curve, broken in the case of night show attendance by a performer's illness in 1973. As is shown in the maintenance and operation chart, the amount spent for these necessities (less depreciation) fluctuated around the $500-$550,000 mark for five years, but took a tremendous jump to more than $775,000 in 1974, primarily due to the cost of labor and materials.

Finally, space rental income, second largest source of Society revenue, has shown a steady increase during the six-year period.

ANNUAL MEETING — 1974

The Minnesota State Agricultural Society, governing body of the State Fair, assembled for its 115th annual meeting at the Hilton Hotel in St. Paul on Monday, January 21, 1974. Business sessions were conducted in conjunction with the Minnesota Federation of County Fairs, cosponsors of the yearly convention.

Tuesday afternoon, January 22, Society delegates met to hear reports on the 1973 State Fair, including those of the president, secretary and treasurer. Credential and resolution committee reports were presented and accepted, as well as a report of nomination by the Hall of Fame committee. A long-time employee of the Society, James L. Libby, was duly elected to membership in the Hall of Fame. Short presentations were made by representatives of 4-H and Future Farmers of America. The afternoon's featured speaker was Minnesota "Teacher of the Year," Thomas F. Stoltman from Winona Senior High School.

Immediately following this meeting, delegates from the second and eighth districts met in separate caucuses for the purpose of certifying nominees for election to the Society's Board of Managers with elections to be held the following morning as prescribed by law.

Tuesday evening, the annual combined banquet and ball of the Federation, Society and Midwest Showmen's Association was held in the main ballroom of the Hilton Hotel with over 875 persons in attendance.

Wednesday morning, January 23, the Society conducted its final business session with the following elections taking place: president—Leo Keskinen, Grand Rapids (one-year term); vice-president—Leonard Ramberg, Minneapolis (two-year term); second district board member—Arthur Sprengeler, Plato (three-year term) eighth district board member—Sulo Ojakangas, Hibbing (three-year term).

After adjournment of the annual meeting, the Board of Managers, including its newly elected members, met and reelected John E. Libby to the position of secretary-general manager for a one-year term.

STAFFF AND MANAGEMENT

With a cast of nearly 2,000 seasonal employees, the Minnesota State Fair is highly dependent upon the talents and management skills of its department superintendents. This cadre comes to the Fair from a wide range of occupations in order to put their experience to work in a varied set of competitive, administrative and public service applications.

The Fair's year-around staff, serving under the direction of the secretarygeneral manager, provides middle-management guidance and assistance for part-time departmental superintendents. A young, but experienced crew, the 14 administrative and 18 plant management employees set themselves daily to the task of operating a $4 million business and to the demands of a 300acre, $11 million physical plant.

Literally thousands of man-hours are spent after the Fair during the late fall and winter months in providing maintenance to the exposition's buildings, property and equipment. Bookkeeping details, including bill payment, collection, book closing, fiscal reporting, cost distribution and budget preparation, must be undertaken before moving ahead to the next season.

Special off-season events are another major responsibility of the permanent staff. Equipped and qualified to serve every possible need in trade show and special event production, Fair employees now handle as many as three shows concurrently. On any summer weekend, as many as 40,000 spectators might be participating at events on the grounds.

The Fair's 20 competitive departments, which collectively handle over 10,000 entries and distribute better than $300,000 in prize money, are provided administrative guidance by Gerald Franke and Steven Pooch. These two analyze exhibit trends and work out preliminary details of premium allocation, as well as revising competitive rules, with resource from exhibitor groups and in concert with specific superintendents and supervisors. The bulk of this detail must be undertaken prior to January 1, so that budget impact might be measured and adjusted. Franke, as Fair treasurer, also superintends ticket sales which each year channel some $2.25 million through the books of the Society.

The Fair's second largest source of revenue is commercial space sale, managed by Kenneth Wenzel and assistant superintendent, Mary Sue McGuire. In addition to rental and allocation of indoor and outdoor real estate, Wenzel must see to exhibit building management and outdoor equipment shows, plus employment and supervision of the ticket takers used on rides and shows. During the winter season, Space Rental Department responsibilities include a warehousing function which serves over 1,000 owners of boats and recreational vehicles. As with competitive departments, concessions and commercial exhibits must be finalized early in the year so that all available space is fully and properly utilized on a timely basis.

Plant management departments include Service and Grounds, under the guidance of Joseph Fischler; Construction and Maintenance, headed by William Jents; and Greenhouse, supervised by William Hermes. Planning, as well as physical coordination and work on the grounds, is channeled through these departments on a year-around basis.

Staff functions, such as publicity, purchasing, accounting, communications, mailing, publications, legal and budget control, though more highly concentrated during the late summer months just prior to the Fair, go on at a measured pace throughout the year.

REPORT OF LEGISLATIVE AUDITOR

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Year Ended November 30, 1974

AUDITOR'S REPORT

This report on an audit of the State Agricultural Society covers the year ended November 30, 1974.

The audit was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

Depreciation has been taken on certain structures, the electric plant, and personal property. Depreciation is not taken on some structures, the gas, sewer, and water systems, and other improvements such as fences, sidewalks, streets, curbs, and gutters.

It is our opinion, subject to the foregoing paragraph, that the balance sheet and statements of income and changes in financial position in this report present fairly the financial position of the State Agricultural Society at November 30, 1974, and the results of its operation and changes in its financial position for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

COMMENTS

The State Agricultural Society is a public corporation with the right of perpetual succession. Its membership is composed of the following:

- 1. Three delegates from each agricultural society or association in the state which maintains an active existence, holds annual fairs, and is entitled to state aid under Minn. Stat. Section 38.02.
- 2. One delegate to be appointed by the county board of each county in the state in which no county or district agricultural society exists.
- 3. Individuals, who by reason of eminent service to agriculture, horticulture, or in the arts and sciences connected therewith, or by long and faithful service to the society, have been elected as honorary members.
- 4. Delegates from qualified state societies and associations as listed in Minn. Stat. Section 37.03 (4).
- 5. Members of the Board of Managers of the State Agricultural Society.

The management of the affairs of the State Agricultural Society is vested in a Board of Managers. The president is elected for a one-year term, the two vice-presidents for two-year terms alternately. The other managers are elected from each of seven regional districts not represented by a vice-president for terms of three years.

The year-around business is conducted under the stewardship of a secretary-general manager, elected by the board.

All employees serve at the pleasure of the board and the secretary-general manager who is authorized by the board to make adjustments in the assignments and compensation of employees as he deems advisable.

Activities of the society are financed by receipts from the annual fair and from rental of buildings and grounds.

Admissions

Total outside gate admissions including vehicles, and grandstand admissions at the last four annual fairs were as follows:

	1971	1972	1973	1974
Outside gate admissions	1,370,210	1,448,977	1,440,330	1,596,214
Grandstand admissions	174,516	166,694	141,470	171,450

Operations

Income and expense for the year ended November 30, 1974 are shown in Exhibit B. A comparative summary of income and expense for the years ended November 30, 1974 and 1973 follows:

	Year Ended November 30
	1974	1973
Income	$3,735,371	$3,314,170
Expense	3,512,387	2,992,915
Net Income	$ 222,984	$ 321,255

Statement of Changes in Financial Position

A statement of sources and applications of funds appears in Exhibit C. Funds provided from net income and depreciation for the year were applied to increases in plant and working capital.

Accounts Receivable

The accounts receivable account in the general ledger and the accounts receivable subsidiary records were not in agreement as of November 30, 1974. We recommend that the general ledger and the subsidiary records be reconciled on a quarterly basis.

The amount shown on the balance sheet for accounts receivable includes an amount for "accounts receivable — bad debts." This account is currently listed in the general ledger with a debit balance. The account consists of receivable balances submitted to the Executive Council for approval to be written off as uncollectible. We recommend that an "allowance for uncollectible accounts" be established in the general ledger as a contra-asset to accounts receivable for such amounts.

Payroll

Salary expense for the pay period including the final days of fiscal year 1974 and the first days of fiscal year 1975 was charged to fiscal year 1975. This procedure does not result in the allocation of all salary expense to the correct fiscal year. Therefore, we recommend that the salary expense for the pay period at the end of fiscal year 1975 and subsequent years be prorated so that salary expense for each fiscal year will be accurately stated.

Pay schedules for fair period employees are determined by the board members responsible for the various departments. For the 1974 State Fair, the pay schedules were not in writing, and we were therefore not able to verify the accuracy of the rates paid. Payments were made on the basis of hourly, daily, and flat rates. We recommend that the pay schedules be prepared in writing and signed by the board members responsible for each department. We also recommend that all fair period pay rates be stated on an hourly basis in order to standardize the manner in which the payroll is computed.

Depreciation Expense

Depreciation is not taken on certain depreciable fixed assets including some structures, the gas, sewer, and water systems, and other improvements such as fences, sidewalks, street, curb, and gutters. We recommend that annual depreciation on these assets be included in the accounting records.

Employees Leasing Automobiles from Person Having Contract With State Agricultural Society

John E. Libby, Secretary-General Manager, and Michael D. Heffron, Assistant Secretary-General Manager, presently are leasing automobiles from Larson Leasing of Blue Earth, Inc., Blue Earth, Minnesota. This company is owned by Neil J. Larson. According to Libby "the lease terms enjoyed by Mr. Heffron and myself are, without question, better than those established at retail, but in no instance, would I understand them to be less than 'breakeven' for Mr. Larson."

At a regular meeting on June 1, 1974 of the State Agricultural Society's Board of Managers, Libby recommended and the board approved, Neil J. Larson as racing manager for the 1974 fair. At that time Libby informed the board of the automobile lease arrangements, and that he and Larson had been close friends for over 15 years. In a letter to Richard Keenan, the society's attorney, Libby stated that the personal relationships "shall, in no instance, be allowed to infringe upon our 'arm's length' posture with respect to any and all contractual, business dealings undertaken with Mr. Larson on behalf of the Minnesota State Fair."

On June 7, 1974 the State Agricultural Society entered into a contract with Pace, Inc., Blue Earth, Minnesota, to manage, supervise and conduct at the Minnesota State Fairgrounds, two programs of professional automobile racing. The president of Pace, Inc. is Neil J. Larson. Heffron told auditors that this contract was necessitated by the death of the previous supervisor of the professional automobile racing program in May 1974, and that Larson was the best qualified individual available to assume the duties.

Minn. Stat. Section 15.43 provides in part:

No employee of the state . . . in direct contact with suppliers or potential suppliers to the state . . , or who may directly or indirectly influence a purchasing decision or contract by establishing specification, testing purchased products, evaluating contracted services, or otherwise has official involvement in the purchasing or contracting process may:

(2) Accept directly or indirectly from a person, firm, or corporation to which a contract or purchase order has been or may be, awarded, a rebate, gift, money, or anything of value other than advertising novelties having wide distribution and are of nominal value. No such employee may further accept any promise, obligation or contract for future reward.

Reemployment of Retired Employee

A retired employee of the society, who receives a pension from the Minnesota State Retirement System has been reemployed each year although he has passed the mandatory retirement age specified in Minn. Stat. Section 43.051. There is some question of the applicability of this law to employees of the State Agricultural Society. Therefore we recommend that legislative action be sought to determine the mandatory retirement age of employees of the society.
